My team and I love this quote because no matter how well you run your business, unhappy customers are inevitable. While there will be a percentage who are just unhappy people looking to complain about anything, most people will have legitimate points worth considering

display window

A window display is a grouping of merchandise in a retail establishment's storefront area. For shops with street access, the storefront section has an outer door and usually one or two windows. Stores inside a shopping mall usually have at least one clear wall beside their entrance or they have a solid wall with a display window that looks out into the inside of the mall. A shopping mall may be defined as one or more buildings that contain separate retail units. Displaying store merchandise is known as visual merchandising and window displays show potential customers items that are for sale inside the shop, so that hopefully they will enter the store to purchase these or other goods.

Aluminum composite panel (ACP) also aluminum composite material, (ACM) is a type of flat panel that consists of two thin aluminum sheets bonded to a non-aluminium core. ACPs are frequently used for external cladding or facades of buildings, insulation, and signage
